HARRISBURG, Feb. 27.—With four-day sessions ordered by Speaker Wilson G. Sarig beginning next week in anticipation that Gov. George H. Earle's tax bills will soon be reported from committee for action, the house today was set quickly to dispose of its routine calendar and retire for the week-end.

As legislative activity subsided after the most hectic week thus far in the session, the spotlight fell again on the house liquor investigation with Robert S. Gawthrop, chairman of the liquor control board, still on the stand. The list of public officials shown to have had an interest in operations of the liquor stores continued to grow.

Hearings On Tax Bills
Hearings on the administration bills taxing domestic insurance corporations, gross receipts, electric power and bank stock shares were held by the house ways and means committee with Rep. Frank W. Ruth, chairman, presiding. The first of the tax hearings, held on the chain store tax bill developed a welter of sharply divided opinion. Next Tuesday and Wednesday the committee will conduct another series of hearings on the gasoline tax increase and the tobacco tax.

Lack Of Funds To Halt RWD Projects

Effective Friday night, March 1, all RWD projects, save four small ones, in Lawrence County will be abandoned temporarily, according to an order received by W. Leslie Wilson, acting RWD director, today. The reason ascribed is lack of funds. All men now employed on RWD projects, with the exception of the relatively few that will be retained, will be put back on direct relief until such time as money is provided to continue the projects. This will probably be when the United States Congress untangles the present appropriation bill which is pending before it.

Specter Of Increased Federal Taxation Is Injected In Relief Plan

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—The specter of increased federal taxation was injected into senate consideration of President Roosevelt's $4,880,000,000 work relief bill today with a group of Republicans demanding the new administration now propose enough new taxes to pay for the cost of the program.

A spokesman for the group said they would seek to insert a provision in the bill, financing it through a long term bond issue which would be amortized through new taxes. Details were withheld pending a decision on what new taxes should be imposed.

The bill meanwhile rested in the senate appropriations committee as the leaders continued to search for ways of discarding the McCarran amendment which ordered the government to pay prevailing wage rates on all relief projects.

Want Payment Provided

The spokesman for this Republican group said:

Auto Collides With Street Car

Accident Occurs On East Washington Street, Near Cascade Park

One automobile went to the wreckers and one street car went to the repair shop Tuesday evening when the automobile of William Lyttinen of Oak street crashed into street car 303 near the corner of Washington and Hazel streets at 9:45 o'clock.

Lyttinen and Lysle Nimma were driving towards Cascade park and the street car was headed towards town driven by Motorman D. K. Frazier. At this point in East Washington street the tracks are in the middle of the street, there being but a single track.

Lyttinen blames the condition of the street near the curb for the accident and said that he skidded out onto the right of way. Frazier said that a crash was inevitable and, applying the emergency brakes, stepped back into the body of the car. The crash crushed the front left side of the automobile, driving the left front wheel under the street car, breaking the street car air lines and necessitating a wrecker and a new car.

The automobile was badly damaged but fortunately the two occupants escaped uninjured, save for very minor bruises.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—The new deal, approaching its second anniversary on March 4, encountered rough weather today.

Again are the new dealers forced to look in the direction of the United States supreme court for aid and succor.

The decision rendered by Judge John P. Nields, in federal district court in Delaware today, holding unconstitutional the famous labor clause of the national recovery act, section 7-A, as it applies to the Weirton case, while not wholly unexpected, nevertheless casts an aura of doubt about the whole set-up—and at the very moment congress has under consideration a two-year extension of the act.

Judge Nields' decision, following on the heels of Judge William I. Grubb's decision in Alabama, holding the Tennessee Valley Authority to be unconstitutional, marks a legal crisis affecting the most vital parts of the new deal.

Glick Speaks To Bank Host

Deputy Attorney General Present At Peoples Bank Banquet

ABOUT 200 ATTEND EVENT ON TUESDAY

Deputy Attorney General David Glick, Pittsburgh, told close to 200 stockholders, directors, officers and employees of the Peoples Bank of New Castle last night, in effect, that our country should do more thinking nowadays and less talking.

Before the banquet crowd at The Castleton he called "unnecessary and unwarranted" the "bad case of the jitters which the nation had just before the supreme court handed down its decision in the gold clause cases last week." He blamed it on "loose talk and ballyhoo in the newspapers."

Mr. Glick, who handles the banking field for Attorney General Charles J. Morgenthau, headed a group of five speakers who commented briefly on bank affairs, generally and locally, for the benefit of the assembled shareholders.

He declared that we turned back in our history books we would have found two cases similar to the gold clause cases, and just as important then, before the high tribunal between 1860 and 1870.

"Well, we know the court's now, and nothing has happened," he said.

Chambers Is Toastmaster

Judge James A. Chambers was the evening's toastmaster. After the dinner the group first heard the bank's vice president, James A. Taylor, welcome the shareholders and explain, briefly, that the banquet was held partly for social reasons and partly to allow the bank and its stockholders opportunity to talk their problems together. It was the first banquet they have had in 10 years.

A. J. Bradford, vice president of the Colonial Trust company, at Pittsburgh, followed Mr. Taylor and lauded the bank management.

"I would plead for your support for your officers as an officer of another bank because the job of running a bank today is almost a 24-hour task under the new rules, regulations," he said.

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Feb. 27. Was down last night with Charlie Chaplin listening to our friend, Will Durant, the philosopher, debate on world economics. Charlie has made a study of that. He is the greatest economist in the world.

Every nation has lost its export trade, yet stop and think of it, Chaplin manufactures the only article in the world that hasn't depreciated. The world is his market the same as before the depression. He has never let the supply equal the demand.

While all the world's big industrialists were greedy, Charlie never went in for mass production. Seems odd that a comedian can do what governments are not smart enough to do.

N.R.A. Is Given Blow In Weirton Case Decision

Government Loses Suit In Decision By Federal Judge At Wilmington

DENIES INJUNCTION GOVERNMENT SOUGHT

Decision Is Vital Decree In Regard To Section 7-A Of National Recovery Act

(BULLETIN)

(International News Service)

WILMINGTON, Del., Feb. 27.—The NRA suffered a major defeat today in the long-awaited decision in the celebrated Weirton Steel case, involving collective bargaining provision as embodied in Section 7-A of the N. I. R. A.

Federal Judge John N. Nields denied the injunction sought by the government to enjoin the Weirton Steel Company from allegedly violating the labor section of the code of fair competition for the iron and steel industry.

In an 85-page opinion, Judge Nields said:

"There is no showing on the part of the plaintiff warranting the court in issuing an injunction."

Section 7-A Void In Case
"Section 7-A, as applied to the defendant and its business, is unconstitutional and void."

Continuing, the court said:

"By a clear preponderance of evidence, this court finds that the plan of employee representation in effect among the employees of the defendant affords a lawful and effective organization of the employees for collective bargaining through representatives of their own choosing; that in all respects it complied with the provisions of section 7-A of the National Industrial Recovery act and section 1, article 4, of the steel code; that in all respects it is directly operated and controlled by defendant's employees and is not dominated or controlled by defendant or its agents."

Hits At U. S. Right
The decision struck at the government's right, depression or not, to interfere in a business which cannot be classified as interstate. Under the caption "conclusions from the evidence," the opinion read:

"The manufacturing operations conducted by the defendant in its various plants or mills do not constitute interstate commerce. Relations between the defendant and its employees do not affect interstate commerce."

"The manufacturer is a co-operative enterprise. Production in quantity."

Five Miners Hurt In Addition To Those Who Were Killed

MINE INSPECTORS LAUNCHING PROBE

(International News Service)

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Feb. 27.—Mine inspectors today began a probe of a slate fall in shaft No. 2 of the Pleasant Valley Mining Company which cost the lives of four men and injured five others.

District Mine Inspector Richard Maize and two associates expected to enter the mine this morning to investigate the disaster. They said the accident trapped the miners while they were clearing up a string of wrecked mine cars.

Four Dead

The dead were John Farayter, Sr., 52, Uniontown, and his son, John, Jr., 20, and Peter Christine, 54, and Charles Jaynes, 30, Oliver.

All of the injured were expected to recover and three had been released from Uniontown hospital, where they were treated. Charles Keffer, 53, Oliver, and Mike Karpocky, 45, Uniontown, remained in the hospital with broken left legs.

The rescued men asserted the slate and coal fall occurred without the usual warning crackling sound preceding a cave-in. Approximately eight or nine tons of slate coal fell, mine inspectors said.

Income Tax

No. 27 DEDUCTION FOR TAX ON MOTOR GAS

If an automobile is used for both business and pleasure, all of the maintenance and operating expenses connected therewith, which constitute allowable deductions for Federal income tax purposes, should be allocated to the two uses on the basis of the time it is used for each. For example, if the total expense of operation and maintenance, plus depreciation, for the taxable year amounted to $800, and the car was used three-fourths of the time for business and the balance of the time for pleasure, the allowable deduction for Federal income tax purposes would be $600.

If a law which imposes a tax on gasoline shows that the tax is imposed on the consumer and not on the dealer, the consumer may deduct as a tax, for Federal income tax purposes, the amount of the gasoline tax paid by him; but the taxpayer must have kept records of the payment of such taxes in order that the deduction may be substantiated as is required by the law and the regulations. The Federal gasoline tax imposed by section 517 of the Revenue Act of 1932 as amended is not deductible by the consumer. A taxpayer may ascertain whether the gasoline tax imposed by a state is deductible by the consumer or by the dealer by addressing an inquiry to the collector of internal revenue for his district.

In any case where the gasoline purchased is used for business purposes the tax may be added to the cost of the gasoline and deducted as a business expense; but where that is done, the gasoline tax cannot be deducted separately under the item of taxes.

A layer of ice beneath two inches of snow hampered traffic. Numerous accidents occurred on slippery streets and highways.

On the open roads some buses were tied up by snowdrifts, but most bus schedules were maintained.

Airplanes were grounded in eastern Pennsylvania and southern New Jersey by lack of visibility.

An emergency crew of 750 men was sent out into the streets of Philadelphia to clear the trolley tracks of drifted snow and keep street cars running.

The snowfall ceased early this morning and was followed by a bright sun and a slowly rising temperature.

ity and quality, and consequent wages, salaries, and dividends, depends upon a sympathetic co-operation of management and workmen.

"Relations acceptable and satisfactory to both workmen and management is an essential feature of the enterprise. If satisfactory, the court will not disturb it."

Not 20th Century Theory

"It is said this relation involves the economic problem of the balance of power of labor against the power of capital. The theory of a balance of power, or balancing opposing powers, is based upon the assumption of an inevitable and necessary diversity of interests."

"This is the traditional old world feeling. It is not the twentieth century American theory of that relation as dependent upon mutual interests, understanding and good will."

"This modern theory is embodied in the Weirton plan of employment organization."

"Furthermore the suggestion that hard times suspend constitutional limitation or cause manufacturing operations to so affect interstate commerce as to subject them to regulation by the congress borders on the fantastic and merits no serious consideration."

Charges In Case

The government's suit charged that through the "imposition" of a company union the company circumvented the collective bargaining rights of the steel workers.

Charges of intimidation and coercion were hurled by a parade of witnesses during the tedious weeks of testimony.

Representatives of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers, an American Federation of Labor organization and rival of the company union, painted the company union as a tool in the hands of the steel barons.

E. T. Weir, chairman of the board of the company, and other men whose names are big in the steel business, refuted these charges and declared that if the government injunction were granted it would have a disastrous national effect. The company contended that a decision favorable to the government would "place in the hands of selfish labor leaders the most gigantic labor monopoly imaginable."

Climaxes Previous Setback

The blow dealt the government today climaxed a similar setback suffered May 29, 1934, in another adverse decision in the same case.

At that time, Judge Nields denied a temporary injunction seeking to restrain the company from participating in the election of collective bargaining representatives by plant employees.

That decision declared: "This court is without jurisdiction to issue a temporary injunction in such case unless the testimony of witnesses is heard in open court with opportunity for cross-examination."

The final decision pointed out that the business of the company was intrastate, although it is a subsidiary of the National Steel Corporation which is engaged in interstate business.

The decision stated that the right of congress to enact Section 7-A does not derive from any "welfare" clause of the constitution, but from the commerce clause, "it is unauthorized and therefore void."

Will Appeal

Washington, Feb. 27.—The federal government will appeal the decision in which the Federal Court at Wilmington, Del., today denied its application for an injunction in the famous Weirton Steel case, it was officially announced at the Justice Department today.

Legal experts declined to comment on just what form the appeal will take until the text of the decision reaches here.

Vindicates Employees Plan

Pittsburgh, Feb. 27.—The decision of Judge John P. Nields denying the government an injunction against the Weirton Steel Company vindicates and approves the employee representation plan of collective bargaining, Earl F. Reed, steel company attorney, told International News Service here today.

Reed, who played an active part in defending the company's stand that the government's suit was improper, though the decision "should be an encouragement to workers to organize free from control and exploitation of selfish labor leaders."

The government sought to have the steel concern restrained from preventing a government-supervised election in its plants at Weirton and Clarksburg, W. Va., and Steubenville, O.

"Judge Nields' decision vindicates and approves the employee representation plan of collective bargaining," Reed stated.

Congress never intended to force workers into unions under the dictatorship of the American Federation of Labor. The court's action in upholding the rights of company representation plans is the first decision in which the rights of workers to decide for themselves what plan to follow has been upheld. It is the first decision in which this right has been determined although other courts have held that Section 7-A of the National Industrial Recovery Act is unconstitutional.

Michael P. Toghiani, international president of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel, and Tin Workers, declined to comment until he has had an opportunity to study the text of the ruling.

lations and changes that are coming each day," Pittsburgher said.

Attorney H. A. Weirton, the bank's solicitor, elaborated on the legal side of banking and President Adolph Green, speaking last on the program, told the audience "that banking is considerably different today than it was when I started in the 90's."

"Confidence is the need of our country today," declared the chief after relating some of the officers' problems, "and no $4,800,000,000 public works bill of President Roosevelt, whether it be doubled, tripled or quadrupled, will restore prosperity. Paying out that money without producing anything won't restore prosperity."

He praised the New Castle banks as "safe as any bank you could find in New York, Philadelphia or anywhere."

Artists' Music Enjoyed

Throughout last night's program were musical numbers presented by artists of New Castle and New Wilmington.

Vocal numbers by Miss Rebekah Crawford, contralto, whose home is in New Wilmington, and vocal numbers by Delbert Fletcher, were heard at intervals on the program. Miss Crawford was accompanied by Mrs. Agnes Martin Skilton, while Miss Kathryn Lewis accompanied Mr. Fletcher. During the dinner hour David Hopkins, harpist, played and while guests entered the dining hall early in the evening Miss Ruth Phillips played xylophone numbers.

Invocation before dinner was pronounced by J. E. White, a member of the board of directors. John Butler, another director, was chairman of the committee on arrangements for the banquet.

appeal both decisions, and ultimately the same bench that gave the government a narrow 5-4 victory in the gold cases will have to decide whether congress exceeded its power in enacting the NRA and creating the TVA.

Administration leaders were not greatly surprised, but they were deeply disappointed by the Wilmington decision. The department of justice and Donald R. Richberg, general counsel for NRA, had been skeptical of the Weirton case from the outset. They held it as long as they could from making the Weirton case a test case. The decision just rendered apparently amply justified the fears they entertained.

The labor of "unconstitutional" pinned on both the NRA and the TVA will have the effect of a red traffic light in a congress that already is balking over new deal extensions.

employment of children between 14 and 16 as part of the government's labor program. Amended on Monday night to exempt newsboys, the measure was to be further amended in the senate to exempt telegraph messenger boys.

Other bills passed finally and sent to the senate included the Simon bill providing for payments to relief funds association of fire companies of municipalities which afford fire protection to nearby communities.

Some Bills Pass House

The house also passed finally the Zappala bill enlarging the powers of the Allegheny county retirement board; the bill of Rep. William Smith, Mercer, establishing a uniform system for hiring buildings and animals for National Guard activities; the Mason bills prescribing the oath for members of boards of viewers and amending the assessment laws so that property owners alone shall receive notices of assessed valuations, and the Hermans-McHenry bill permitting eel chutes on the north branch of the Susquehanna river to the New York state line.

The bill permitting chutes to catch eels on the north branch involved the house in considerable discussion and it was not passed until Rep. Harvey Surface, Snyder, former state zoologist, an expert on life and habits of the eel, and a former Susquehanna University professor, delivered a scholarly half hour lecture on the spawning habits of the snake-like fish.

The so-called "little ripper bill," preventing the present Republican chairman of council from permanently becoming mayor if Democratic Mayor William N. McNair of Pittsburgh is "ripped out" of office was adopted by the house finally and sent to the senate.

In a brief senate session, 11 bills most of them appropriation measures, were reported from committee for first reading Monday night. Three bills by Sen. George Reed, Dauphin, would exempt the department of internal affairs from budgetary control of the governor's office, abolish the now defunct aeronautics commission in the department of internal affairs, and create a commission to assign office space at the capitol.

of these neighbors of the police head and his wife.

Mrs. Arch T. Baker, who resided in the apartment above that of the Cummings, was called to tell of happenings the night of the murder. She and her husband, Mrs. Baker said, were the first persons to see Mrs. Cummings' body.

She said the defendant came to the door of their apartment and asked if he might call police; she testified that later Cummings took them to the bedroom, switched on the light and pointed to his wife's body. She said Cummings made no effort to see if his wife were alive.

Ballistic experts yesterday testified that Mrs. Cummings was shot and killed by a bullet fired from a gun found buried in a chimney hole and covered with soot in the basement of the apartment.

Defense counsel declined to estimate how long their case would require.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

COMING MARRIAGE IS REVEALED AT PARTY

Mrs. C. J. Bernhart, of North Liberty street, entertained at a miscellaneous shower and announcement party Tuesday evening at her home in honor of Miss Marjorie Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Jones, of West Washington street.

The news of Miss Jones' forthcoming marriage to Frederick Foster, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arch Foster, of West State street, was revealed on shamrocks found in the clever individual "green traveling bag" place cards. The message read "Marjorie and Fritz, March 12."

St. Patrick's day influenced not only the place cards but the center decorations of the table. The hostess, assisted by Mrs. Floyd Jones and Mrs. C. H. Clark, served a delicious lunch at the close of a number of games of bridge.

One of the features of the evening was the entrance of little Edward Jones, young brother of the honored guest, with a telegram telling his sister where to find a showing of packages. Miss Jones followed the directions and was pleasantly surprised to discover a cache of lovely gifts.

Miss Jones is a graduate of Union high school in the class of '31 and of the Jameson Memorial Hospital School of Nursing in the class of '34. Her fiancé also attended Union high and is now affiliated with his father in the sign painting business.

MISS DOROTHY LEE HONORED AT MEETING

A lovely party for Bestyette Bridge club members, was held Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. Clare Montgomery, Wallace avenue, when she entertained in a delightful manner, with Miss Barbara Bratsche, as a special guest.

During the evening, a feature most touching, was the presentation of a bouquet of the seasons' choicest flowers to Miss Dorothy Lee, who will be leaving New Castle on March 9 to be the bride of William Prince, of New Jersey, the ceremony to be performed in New York. It held an abundance of good wishes in remembrance of her last gathering with associates of the Bestyette club. She responded in a gracious manner.

Cars were the main diversion, with the high score prize being captured by Miss Bratsche. The serving of a delicious collation at a beautifully decorated table, followed. A cluster of sweet-peas, flanked by tall pink lighted tapers, formed the centerpiece. The hostess was assisted by Miss Lee.

On March 14 Mrs. Thomas Solomon of Long avenue will extend hospitality to club members.

Jolikos Anniversary

A 6:30 o'clock dinner served at a local tea room marked the seventh anniversary of the Jolikos club 1st evening, at which 11 participated. After partaking of the delicious menu, the women enjoyed a theatre party.

GARDEN CLUB SPONSORS BIRD HOUSE BUILDING

Although the true harbingers of spring, the robins and other birds, have not put in much of an appearance hereabouts up to this time, yet when they do come, scores of little homes will be ready for them, for already the garden clubs are making plans for house building contests.

At Tuesday evening's meeting of the East Brook Garden club in the home of Mrs. Rose Waddington, a discussion of the annual bird house building contest took up a major part of the business session, and this committee was appointed to secure judges and prizes: Mrs. Mae McConaghy, Mrs. Orville Kerr and Mrs. Rose Waddington.

Mrs. Vane Johns gave an interesting talk on "The Language and Use of Flowers" afterwards and the members were interested in an exhibit of various unique and rare articles: a pitcher, a vase, napkin rings, a knife carved from rhododendron roots, a Bible 150 years old, several species of mounted ferns, young cacti seedlings, a painted bracket fungus and an old fashioned horn. Mrs. Norman Marlin was in charge.

The session opened with singing "America the Beautiful", Mrs. Mae McConaghy leading. The creed was read by Mrs. Martha Young and prayer offered by Mrs. Norma Marlin. "Good Citizens of Our Window Gardens" were named in answer to roll call. Mrs. Omar Fink read an informative paper on "Wistaria, the Favorite of Vines" while constructive ideas about "How to Begin a Garden in March" were outlined by Mrs. Nanette Black.

A contest in which flowers were named from pictures as conducted by Mrs. E. B. Kennedy. First prize for guessing the majority was captured by Miss Shirley Stetson while Mrs. Omar Fink won another prize. Delicious refreshments were served in the dining room, places being marked with quaint candy bouquets. The hostess was assisted by her daughters, Misses Edna and Patty Ann Waddington.

RECENT BRIDE HONORED BY CLUB

Mrs. Martin Pilner, nee Elsie Stevenson, a bride of the season, was honored at a shower Tuesday evening by members of the Hi-Point Bridge club, when they met in the home of Mrs. Naomi LeMaster, Pearson street.

Cards formed the pastime following the feature, with prizes being captured by Mrs. Robert Sadler, Mrs. William Back and Mrs. E. B. Ray. At conclusion of play the hostess served a tempting lunch, with Henrietta Snyder assisting. Dainty tones in keeping with the occasion, prevailed.

Mrs. Pilner will leave soon to make her permanent home in Buffalo, N. Y.

Club members are scheduled to gather in the home of Mrs. William Back, Summer avenue, on March 14, for their regular session.

At Lang Home

Miss Rose Sanders helped with a dainty collation. The next meeting will be on Thursday, March 14, at the home of Miss Katherine Eve, 708 Superior street.

National President Of Business Women Coming To This City, March 5

On next Tuesday evening, March 5, at The Castleton, one of the year's most important women's gatherings will take place, the annual public relations banquet of the New Castle Business and Professional Women's club.

This year's banquet is of outstanding interest because of the distinguished speaker who has been secured—Mrs. Geline MacDonald Bowman of Richmond, Va., president of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs.

This will be Mrs. Bowman's first visit to New Castle and it is being looked forward to with great interest not only by the local club but by business and professional women's clubs from all surrounding cities.

The banquet at The Castleton will attract women from Ellwood City, Butler, Kittanning, Punxsutawney, Rural Valley, Grove City, Greenville and Sharon. Of course there will be a full attendance from both the New Castle club and the New Castle Juniors, and, as special guests, there will be present representatives from other prominent local clubs.

Arrangements for the affair are being made by Mrs. R. L. Boyd and the public relations committee, of which she is chairman. Miss Helen Dena White is president of the local club.

Dinner will be served at 6:30 o'clock. It is believed that at least 200 places will be set. Mrs. Bowman's address will immediately follow dinner.

The public relations banquet is conducted yearly in this city in celebration of National Business Women's Week, which this year occurs March 17 to 23. In order that Mrs. Bowman could be the guest speaker the date of the banquet was set for the 5th. Fifty-five thousand women throughout the United States are making similar celebration plans.

MRS. GELINE MACDONALD BOWMAN

BORDEN CLASS HAS DINNER GATHERING

Members of the George R. Borden Bible class of the First M. E. church gathered in the basement of the church last evening and enjoyed the February dinner and class meeting.

Dinner was served at 6:30 o'clock and was attended by 40 members. The tables were prettily decorated with various types of pine and other greens which were sent here for the occasion from Shiquaim Falls, Wash., by Mr. and Mrs. Borden.

Mr. Borden was the first teacher of the class and at that time was secretary of the local Y. M. C. A.

The evening was delightfully spent with games and various other amusements. Oscar Shaeffer entertained the members with lantern slides of various scenes taken in Washington state and many local slides as well. A flashlight picture of the class was taken and a copy will be sent to the Borden.

A very interesting letter from Mr. and Mrs. Borden was read during the evening, in which many events in the life of the family were described. It will interest the many New Castle friends to know that the couple is well and happy and enjoying life in the northwestern home. George, Jr., was recently married and William, their other son, is a sophomore in high school. Both boys were very small when the family left New Castle.

The committee having last night's event in charge consisted of Mr. and Mrs. Vernor Bright, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar J. Shaeffer, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Homan, Mr. and Mrs. C. Ed Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Al Robbins and Mrs. Ed Beahm.

Guests included Mrs. Edna Matheis, Misses Hannah Walker, Stella Dieffenbacher and Emma Bollinger.

The program which had been arranged by Mrs. Emery Wolf, was presented by the president, Mrs. Harold Claple. The scene was "Japan Goes to School", with much interesting material brought out. Mrs. Claple had charge of the business session at which plans were made for a covered dish dinner to be held jointly with the Catherine Von Bora society at the church on the evening of March 4. This dinner-meeting will be featured by a shower for the box which will be sent in the near future to Porto Rico.

A fine display of India lace, in charge of Mrs. C. R. Thompson, was of further interest.

DAUGHTERS OF VETS HAVE ENTERTAINMENT

This program, in charge of Mrs. Lucy Pettit, was presented as follows: Readings—Sally Lou Kurtz and Jean Porter. Guitar solo—Bobby Fox. Two songs—Pauline Rachid. Bingo and 500 prizes, at the end of play, were presented to Mrs. Harry Graham and Mrs. Rebecca McKissick, for bingo; and Mrs. Maud Fisher, Mrs. Jessie Harris, William Logan and Glenn Fox, for 500. A special prize went to Mrs. Iretta Palmer.

The business meeting was presided over by Mrs. Mary Kurtz, the president.

At Mrs. Whitacre's

In spite of wind and unfavorable weather, Cathedral Chapter No. 440, Order of the Eastern Star, had a big crowd in attendance at their meeting in the Cathedral last night. This was their turn to entertain the matrons of the district, and their party proved a most delightful event.

Following the regular meeting of members in the East Lodge room, members and guests, as well as their escorts, were served an attractive and bountiful lunch. An informal social time ensued.

Mrs. Edna West, worthy matron of the chapter, and her committee, are busily engaged in completing their plans for a dessert-bridge to be given in the Cathedral, Friday, March 15. Mrs. Emma Leslie is general chairman of the affair.

The joint winter ball being sponsored by the three local Eastern Star chapters, New Castle, Cathedral and Shenango, will be held in the Cathedral, Friday evening, March 1.

ST. ANDREWS' JUNIOR GUILD HAS PARTY

Eleven guests were present including Mrs. Stanley Dugan. Bingo was a pleasing diversion, the favors falling to Mrs. McKissick and Mrs. Charles Morgan. Mrs. Harry Raymond asked the club to her Bedford street home, in two weeks.

THE INSANITY DEFENSE

THE "insanity defense" in murder cases generally arouses a cynical smile. It has been overworked so much that the public has tired of its sound and has become convinced that it frequently results in the obvious misapplication of justice.

One of its chief faults, it is believed, is in the legal definition of insanity. In many states a man is legally sane and responsible if he can distinguish right from wrong. What we need to realize is that emotional instability can be worse than intellectual instability. A man able to tell right from wrong, however, can be swept off his feet by an emotional storm which he cannot control.

It is difficult to provide a definition which will leave no loop holes for the unscrupulous and still afford protection to those actually insane and not responsible to society for their actions. Wording of such a definition for the legal fraternity is a challenge to the able minds in that profession.

TO BE CONGRATULATED

Young Mrs. James H. R. Cromwell, who was famous as Doris Duke, "richest girl in the world," until her marriage a few days ago, seems to deserve some kind of vote of thanks from her fellow countrymen.

Here, for a change, was a young woman of wealth and position who got married in a quiet, unpress-agented manner; an American heiress who actually found it possible to take unto herself a husband without the aid of an army of cameramen, newsreel truck, gaping spectators, and the like.

Furthermore, the young woman married an American, and not a fortune-hunting member of some obscure European titled house.

All this, on the principle of when-the-man-bites-the-dog-it's-news, is worthy of notice. And since it's such a pleasant change, Mrs. Cromwell deserves some kind of thanks.

SISTERS AND COUSINS AND AUNTS

Reform being in the air, Congress seems intent on doing a little reforming itself. For years nepotism has been attacked in Washington, but apparently without much effect. Some of the members appointed their wives as their private secretaries. Others named cousins and other superfluous relatives. From the point of fitness it would be hard to question such selections.

But the Federal payroll now indicates that the members are engaging in a bit of voluntary reform. Nepotism has not been entirely halted, but the figures say that only thirty-four of the Congressmen now have the family name on the roster.

This is hard on their sisters and their cousins and their aunts, but it will be hailed with satisfaction by those outside the Congressional family circle. It is hinted that some legislators are covering up by appointing each other's relatives as their office assistants. If this is an offshoot of the practice of vote-trading it may take more than a New Deal to end it.

MULTIPLYING UGLINESS

Back in the days when everything was made by hand, when a craftsman worked a new design into every article he produced, a mistake in judgment or an error in taste was of little importance. A crude and unsightly product could offend but few. But when from a single design thousands and even hundreds of thousands of identical objects are to be brought forth, the culture and artistic sense of whole nations may be affected.

A thing of beauty is a joy forever and if beautiful things can be created by the thousands or by the millions the result will be mass production of joy. But what if the objects turned out by high-speed processes happen to be ugly? There is an equal chance of that.

Richard F. Bach, an associate of the department of decorative arts of the Metropolitan Museum of Arts in New York, has called attention to the possible evil effects of multiplication of bad designs. He said the advent of the power-driven machine has changed the entire problem of decorative arts.

This is a truth that manufacturers ought to ponder. The most ordinary utensils are the better for possessing qualities of pleasing design. In our desire to produce plentifully and cheaply too often we have forgotten this truth which was well known to the ancients. And our modern machinery with its marvelous capacity for reproducing objects from a single design may make us either a people distinguished for good taste or devoid of esthetic appreciation.

WHY PICK ON GASOLINE?

In these days of reduced governmental incomes and increased governmental expenses due to necessary relief, every sensible person recognizes the fact that both the Federal and State governments must increase the tax load. In some cases additions must be made to prevailing levies and in others, new taxes must be levied.

Pennsylvania finds herself in the same condition as the Federal government and the other states. The Keystone state must have more revenues and these revenues can come from but one source—taxes. Hence it is easily apparent that every citizen must expect to contribute something to the state's funds.

Realizing this fact it still is no justification for the increase of gasoline taxes in Pennsylvania from three cents to five cents per gallon. This in addition to the one cent national levy that is still on.

Gasoline is now bearing more than its share of the tax burden. Out of the gas tax money has come good roads, reduction of highway bonded indebtedness, work for thousands of unemployed on the highways and increase speed and efficiency in the delivery of goods or the transportation of citizens.

Property owners groan over their tax levy and justly so, and yet property is taxed nothing like gasoline. At the present market gasoline is taxed about 40 per cent of its selling price. To increase it will mean a certain reduction of the use of gasoline, to the detriment of the producers and dealers and no great increase in the state funds.

Gasoline taxes have been and should be peculiar to the highway system. They belong no other place. To increase them further or divert them is to exploit the motorist to a point beyond reason or justice.

Americanism: Calling a man a worthless failure if he doesn't make money; calling him a menace to society if he makes too much.

Interior decorators, in trying to revive old-fashioned horsehair furniture, have no compassion for those millions of Americans who are on the anxious seat as it is.

NOTHING TO BOAST OF

It's odd, but we human beings seem to pay more attention to our weaknesses than to our strong points.

We can't stand pain, and the thought of going to the dentist makes us shiver.

We can't abide having anybody read over our shoulder.

We can't endure criticism; it upsets us for days.

We can't stand hot weather, or cold weather, or gloomy days.

We don't like violin playing, or going without what we want.

We wouldn't live in a house with whining children.

We hate to hear people hum or whistle.

And we have an awfully quick temper which we inherited from our ancestors and we can't possibly control.

In fact, we spend more of our time telling what we CAN'T stand, than what we can.

And what's more, we seem proud of our weak qualities than of our sturdy ones.

I don't know why this is. Honestly, I don't. It's just something I have observed in myself and in others.

We pride ourselves on being "sensitive" and "easily hurt." We are highly strung and delicately organized. We don't quite belong in this world. We are fit only for a perfect civilization, not troubled by bee stings, poison ivy, scandal, common colds, loud noises, sneezes and raucous voices.

So we boast of our imperfections instead of our ability to Take It.

And I suppose that's why the swaggering, arrogant, elbowing rough and tumble bullies who can stand anything get ahead in this world—and the others do NOT.

He doesn't know that he can't stand anything, so he stands EVERYTHING.

I can think of a few fair arguments against this article, but in the main don't you think it's true?

THE FIGHTING SPIRIT

Don't let little fears upset you. Don't give way to every doubt. Make our failure fight to get you.

Stand until he knocks you out. If a better man you're meeting.

Do not falter in the test. To yourself keep on repeating:

"He must beat me at my best."

If you meet a burly bruiser Give the fellow blow for blow.

Then if you must be the loser You have been a worthy foe.

Though your breath grows short and wheezy Fight it out through thick and thin.

But don't ever make it easy For the other chap to win.

When the battle once is started Don't too quickly take to flight.

Don't be fearful and half-hearted. Hit your blows with all your might.

Hold on just a little longer. When you think of giving in.

Though the other chap is stronger. Make him fight it out to win.

Son, beware the quitting habit. For increasingly it grows.

In this world which we inhabit Man encounters many foes.

And though some at times will beat you Give them all the best you can.

But when stronger rivals meet you Let them know they've met a man.

Editor News:

It has always been my contention that a little variety in the various articles submitted to you for publication will always meet with the approval of your many readers.

Therefore, instead of taxes, prohibition, inflation, and what have you, it behooves me to write about something based on the psychological relation of we mortals, something that in my opinion speaks the very essence of truth, yet not generally acknowledged.

Men and women do not dress for the admiration of each other, but for that of their own sex. They are in a perpetual state of surprise and scoff at each other's styles, both as well as complacent and altogether omitting criticism of their own. The dress of the sexes utterly fails in the captivation of one another. The fashionable doings of one are mysterious to the other, for nine-tenths of the time their attire is an offense to one another. Mutual criticism on the point has not the slightest recognition, nor do the modes affect each other save in the most rudimentary way. Each take their own course.

It is not for the young ladies that the young men put on their wonderful neckties, their sleek fur collars, their spats and what have you, anyone than it is for the male dandies that young women stay thinking and hesitating so long over the pattern of a lace or the tint of a parasol. Men seldom, if ever, notice the pattern of the lace; they pay little heed to an umbrella, unless it is one a man is carrying. Both have in their eye those who can understand them best—their own sex.

I have often wondered what inspired that great composer Victor Herbert, to write the immortal ballad, "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life."

Does anyone know? Neither do I.

Yours truly,

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight 5:49. Sun rises tomorrow 6:36.

Uncle Sam's sleuths found fifty thousand French lottery tickets consigned to a New Jersey man who was supposed to sell them for $1,500,000. If we wanted to run lotteries like the French we could pay off our national debt in no time, but it's sinful, they say, smacks of gambling. Not an honest to goodness business like selling liquor.

It is estimated that 10,862 soldiers must endure needless torture to make one contractor a millionaire.

GOING PLACES

A colored soldier was stopped by a sentry one dark night.

"Let me see your pass paper," said the sentry.

"Ain't got no pass paper," said the other.

"Cain't pass through here without no pass paper," declared the sentry.

The first soldier rolled his eyes, reached into his coat pocket, drew forth a razor and opened it.

"Boy," he snarled, "I've got a mother in Heaven, a father in hell, and a girl in Blankville. And, believe me, I've givine see one o' them to-night."

Yes, women are smarter than men, and here's where we prove it. A North Hill man and his wife filled out their applications for drivers licenses and forwarded them to the state highway department. In two days the woman and her drivers license, and in the same mail came a notice that her husband had failed to fill out his application properly, and it was returned for correction.

The Japanese are a heathen people. They do their dirty work without thinking up a noble principle to fool themselves.

There is no sex equality. Who ever saw a speed cop out-talked by a pretty man?

"Sorehead" Democrats who have been disgruntled at the president because he restricted their patronage, are going to be allowed to name 10,000 superintendents and foremen for CCC jobs. Thus the "squawkers" get something to hand out to the folks back home. In other words, it pays to be a kicker. Of course there is no party politics in relief camps.

We note that the Co-eds at Westminster College will become foot-conscious. Judging from the small sized shoes all women try to force their feet into, we would think every woman would be foot-conscious most of the time.

A Wichita Falls man is suing a pop manufacturer because he found for that of his own sex. They are in a perpetual state of surprise and scoff at each other's styles, both as well as complacent and altogether omitting criticism of their own. The dress of the sexes utterly fails in the captivation of one another. ## Electric Service On More Than One Third Of Farms In This Immediate Area

For over one-third of the farms in this vicinity, power is no longer confined to the exertions of old Dobbin, or the dreary labor of the farmer, his family, or the farm hand. For, according to recent records of the Pennsylvania Power Company, more than 34% of the farms located in the territory served by the company are now receiving electric service. The local company is one of the foremost in the state in rural electrification, as can be seen by the fact that only 18.5% of the farms in the state have been electrified, and, for the nation as a whole, only 11%.

Anyone raised on the farm, who in his youth, carried water from the well, built fires in the stove, or watched his mother scrubbing clothes, can appreciate what that means to hundreds of farmers in this section. Add to that the benefits of electricity in poultry raising, dairying and other farm work and you get some idea of how electric service has transformed farm life. Social value has become important not merely to the farmer and the farm organizations but also to the city residents and the nation's population generally, who have come to realize that the welfare of the farmer is a national problem rather than a rural problem.

The cost of constructing lines has been the greatest deterrent to the widespread electrification of rural areas. According to local officials of the Power company, this condition

On Court House Hill

Jury Commissioners, George J. Forrest, B. Frank Thom and Sheriff Edward D. Pritchard today drew a jury for a term of common pleas court to begin on the first Monday of April.

Thirteen prisoners in the county jail have announced their intention of entering pleas on Thursday afternoon, according to Deputy Sheriff Elmer Taylor. This will make a considerable cut in the number of cases to come before the grand jury next week.

Prothonotary R. M. Campbell has made out the argument list for the coming term of quarter sessions court. There are only thirteen cases on the list, which is considerably less than the usual number.

Arguments for a new trial will be heard at court next week in the case of Victor Hudson against Robert E. Sickafuse, in which plaintiff was awarded a verdict as a result of an automobile accident. Arguments for a new trial will also be heard in the case of Benjamin F. Black against E. W. and Eleanor Beerbowler, in which a verdict was also awarded plaintiff.

Considerable labor is saved in the county commissioner's office by the use of a table in figuring up the amount of taxes which are due on properties. The table is so arranged that the assessor and in another column will be found the exact amount of taxes. Were it not for the use of the tables it would require several months to figure up the taxes.

Sheriff Edward D. Pritchard has received a letter from J. W. Claudy superintendent of Rockview penitentiary, in which it is stated that visitors are allowed one visit a month to friends who may be in prison. No visitors are allowed on Sundays and holidays. The letter was in answer to one by Sheriff Pritchard, as he frequently has inquiries here about the penitentiary regulations.

From present indications the county commissioners will have few major projects on during the present year. A petition has been prepared for a new bridge to replace Breakneck bridge over Cheesman's run in the eastern part of the county, but it will have to go before a grand jury before it can be built. It is proposed to have the abutments and piers erected as an RWD project, and as the new location will be about fifty feet from the present location this can be done at any time and the bridge erected later.

Believes Accurate Weather Forecasts Soon To Be Possible

Scientific Forecasting Of Weather Years In Advance Is Prophesied

(International News Service)

TUCSON, Ariz., Feb. 27.—Scientific forecasting of weather many years in advance, which would save agriculture and industry billions of dollars yearly, will become an accomplished fact within the next three or four years, Dr. A. E. Douglass announced today in revealing the progress he and his associates have made in climate research at Steward Observatory.

Dr. Douglass said that after a quarter century of study he was positive the prediction of droughts, heavy rains and cold waves depend now merely upon the building of tree ring "calendars."

"Sun spots have a decided influence upon the weather," he asserted, "and we have definitely established that tree rings show the same 11-year cycles as sun spots. We have already proven tree rings reflected the rainfall."

Work on the "calendar" has already been started.

STAR OF WALES LODGE

An interesting meeting of the Star of Wales lodge was held on Saturday evening. Reports were heard, and the business routine was presided over by Thomas Grey.

Announcement was made that members would meet in the school room of the Congregational church on Sunday evening, March 3, at 7:15 o'clock, for the purpose of entering the church in a body to attend the St. David service program, at which the Rev. Rees T. Williams will be the main speaker. An unusual program has been arranged for this date.

TO MEET AT HARVARD'S
A prayer meeting will be held at the home of John Harvard, Euclid avenue, Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock. The Welsh veteran has been unable to attend church services due to ill health, and this event will be for his benefit.

DISPENSE WITH SERVICE
There will be no Sunday evening services at the Emmanuel Baptist church on Sunday coming, because of the St. David's celebration at the First Congregational church on that date.

Members of the Emmanuel Baptist church will join with the Congregational members in this splendid event.

LETTERS RECEIVED
A letter has been received from John Isaac, South Wales, telling of the improvement in business conditions at Wales; and also, one from Thomas Edwards of California, telling of the fine celebration held in honor of his birthday, at his home.

'Baby Bonds' Go On Sale Friday

Post Office Ready To Offer Them That Day; Certificates Here

Postmaster Richard A. Steen today pronounced the local post office as "ready" to begin its job of selling the federal government's new "baby bonds" on Friday, March 1, the first day they are to be issued. The new bonds, he said, will be sold at the regular money order window.

Postmaster Steen and his money order staff will be ready to advise purchasers fully on questions in connection with purchase of the bonds which are officially known as United States Savings bonds. The U. S. Treasury department has distributed to postmasters the official circular setting forth terms of sale of the securities. Details as to how they may be kept and redeemed are also presented.

The treasury program as announced in Washington indicates that New Castle people with postal savings accounts may withdraw these savings for the purchase of the new bonds without loss of interest. They may withdraw their postal savings certificates and exchange them for the new securities at the same post office window, it is said. The new bonds will sell at prices which will yield an increase of value equal to a return of slightly less than three percent compounded semi-annually, if held until maturity in ten years. This compares with an interest rate of only two percent, not compounded, paid on postal savings accounts. Postmaster Steen said the new "baby bonds" for New Castle came in a shipment yesterday.

Dagnan Signs Name 6000 Times Every Week

If you find it annoying to sign checks on the first of the month for electricity, gas, water, telephone and other bills, you can feel some sympathy for the disbursing office of the emergency relief, Joseph F. Dagnan. Every six days Mr. Dagnan signs his name not less than 6,000 times on relief checks that go out to the workers and relief cases in this area.

Every check has to have Mr. Dagnan's personal signature and thus far he has not been provided with a check signing apparatus which would permit the signatures in multiple.

The only checks he does not sign are those for food and clothing orders. Checks for cash go through him and after months of practice he can now sign approximately 500 checks per hour.

The postage bill alone on these checks is no inconsiderable amount and the stamp receipts of the local post office attest to this fact. Not all the stamps are purchased here, some of them coming through Ellwood City, Bessemer, Butler and Sharon post offices.

Rescue Horse From Lake At Grove City

(Special To The News)
GROVE CITY, Feb. 27.—Ice cutting operations at Barmore Lake were interrupted, when Mary Ann, the docile draft horse, used by Fred Armour to "mark-out" the ice for cutting, broke through and sank in 20 feet of water. A rescue was effected when the crew of 20 men rallied around with ropes and planks, and succeeded in hauling the horse out on firm ice.

The animal broke through at a point where ice had previously been harvested and had again frozen over to a depth of five inches. At other points the ice was 13 inches thick, and Mr. Armour filled his warehouses with 2,200 tons.

Old-timers report that a horse was drowned at the lake in a similar accident 15 years ago.

JASPER, Alta.—Harry Williams, trapper, fell from a cliff, injuring his foot, which soon froze in the bitter cold. He cut the decaying flesh from the foot and applied bear grease to the wound. Then he crawled 12 miles before he reached aid, a journey which took him several days.

REPORT CHARGES MANY POOR RELIEF ABUSES

Some Fantastic Cases Are Cited

Many Questionable Expenditures Are Mentioned In Early Relief Efforts

THIRTY COUNTIES HAD CLEAN RECORDS

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Feb. 27.—Poor relief administration in Pennsylvania was found to be a "patchwork of incredible confusion" in an exhaustive study begun with CWA funds in the administration of former secretary of welfare Alice F. Liveright and made public today in complete form.

Scores of authenticated cases of poor relief abuse, several fantastic and almost incredible, were listed in the 300-page report of the survey, made under the direction of F. Richard Stilwell, typical of extreme examples were audits showing expenditure of part of the first Talbot $10,000,000 relief fund for such "questionable" items as cold cream, ginger ale, fancy toilet soaps, playing cards, magazines, pickles and tooth-picks.

$75 To Alimony
In Cumberland county $75 was charged off to the payment of alimony; $4 for ice and $2 for lodge dues. Other items in the same county were $9.50 for a personal note and $4 for laundry. Indiana county reported the expenditure of $2.98 of the Talbot money for smocks for office employees and $10 for two beer analyses.

The audit disclosed $6,000 had been paid out in Lancaster county without invoices. In Clarion county $9.26 was spent for a huckster's license. Maid service in Columbia county cost $10. Several counties expended Talbot funds for burial expenses, not provided for in the Talbot act.

Although records were missing, destroyed or unkept in many counties, 30 had "clear" records, showing the Talbot funds were spent in accordance with the act in the poor district comprised of Jenkins township, Pittston and Pittston township. The face amount of food orders was paid although the value of the food given was less, the report charged.

Use Relief To Secure Votes
"Mingling politics with relief is perhaps the most common abuse of poor board power," the report found. "It is fairly common practice to refuse relief to political opponents and to use relief orders for securing votes. Before a recent election poor director in one county district placed notes in relief baskets warning recipients they were expected to vote for her."

The report was especially severe in its condemnation of almshouses of which Pennsylvania poor districts maintain 85, ranging from a farmhouse with no inmates to an institution housing 190 persons; it urged state owned regional hospitals in place of almshouses.

To Toughen Your Legs.
How Many Days' Labor?
The Moon Pulls Us.
Many Or Few.
By ARTHUR BRISBANE

"OUT OF THE mouths of babes and sucklings," Jack Dempsey, who really seemed to like fighting, apart from the profit, in his championship days, discussing other fighters in his "sere and yellow leaf" at 40, says men that refuse to do "road work" should know that "you can't toughen your legs sitting in a chair or posing for pictures."

Legs are not important, but brains are. Young gentlemen should know that you cannot toughen your brains, or make them work better, without thinking.

MR. O'BRIEN, chairman of the United States Tariff Commission, says Japan is a good customer, buying from us twice as much as we buy from her. That is gratifying. The United States should not forget that Japan is our "largest single purchaser of cotton."

The real question is: "How many days' labor do we import from Japan, and how many days labor does Japan import from us?"

If they buy cotton representing the labor of ten thousand Japanese, this is not good news for American labor.

If they could buy a ton of steel representing perhaps thirty dollars' worth of American labor, make it over into watch springs and send it back with $100,000 worth of Japanese labor locked up in it, that would interest American labor.

The question is not what do they buy of our raw materials, but what do we buy of their human labor, depriving our own workers of so many days' work?

AS WE go around the sun, with the moon circling round our little earth, and our sun doubtless revolving around some other great central star unknown to us, the moon is always pulling at the earth as a child pulls at its mother's skirt. That pull gradually causes the earth to "slow down" in speed, turning on its axis. Dr. Nicholson, astronomer at Wilson Observatory says this constant pull of the moon will eventually make the earth turn so slowly that it's day will be forty-seven days long instead of twenty-four hours.

WE AND our immediate ancestors need not worry. Astronomy is never in a hurry. The cosmic machine changes slowly. The moon causes the earth to slow down in its turning only one thousandth part of a second in one hundred years. Thus our day will only be one minute longer six million years hence; one hour longer when three hundred and sixty million years shall have passed.

By that time the power of human science, harnessing cosmic power, may make it possible for men to make the moon let go and attend to her business, which is raising the tides to move and inspiring poets.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT, asking Congress for money to put millions of the unemployed to work, would, wisely, spread the money out as far as possible, helping as many as possible. He suggests that workers be paid fifty dollars a month, with the understanding that at the first opportunity they will take better jobs.

Certain closely organized groups, represented by Senators that play politics, say:

"No, pay the highest wages to a few, never mind about the millions of others that will get nothing."

THESE well-organized individuals are now writing letters by order of their leaders to Senators, telling them:

"The prevailing rate of union wages must be paid."

If you think it more important to make the money spent by government go as far as possible, giving fifty dollars a month to as many families as possible, write to the two Senators from your state, saying in substance:

"Dear Senator—I think the people's money should be used to help as many of the people as possible and I ask you to vote to support the President's plan to pay fifty dollars a month to as many as possible, not three or four hundred dollars to a chosen few. I wish to add that at the next election I shall vote against any Senator that votes the other way."

THERE WAS a race in California, close to Los Angeles, last Saturday, with many people there, eight hundred thousand dollars bet on one race. The horse that won it brought something more than $100,000 to his owner. So far, so good.

Tens of thousands of men and tens of thousands of women bet at the track and at poolrooms. A great majority lost their money, all came a little nearer to being confirmed gamblers, and gambling makes real work seem not worth while. So far, NOT so good.

ROY W. KNABENSHUE (he knows about lighter than air ships) says:

"If the wreckage of the dirigible Macon could be examined I believe it would be found that sabotage had something to do with its destruction."

Asked whether he thought any foreign government might have anything to do with wrecking the Macon, he replied:

"I'd hate to say." Let us hope we shall not have another "Remember the Maine" on our hands, but if it must be, let us hope the government will try to get ready for the situation. We know by our 1914 experience that you can't do it at the last minute.

Three Sentenced To Die In Chair

LOCAL TRUCK DRIVER FINDS HONEY KRUSHED WHEAT BREAD BIG BENEFIT TO HEALTH

Discovers Long Needed Digestion Regulator Enabling Him to Continue Strenuous Work. Read His Letter Below.

The advocates of violent exercises as an aid to digestion, frequently overlook the fact that people often require bowel stimulation even though they work long hours. A local truck driver found his long rides, continuously seated, retarded his elimination. He writes as follows:

"Through curiosity I purchased a loaf of your new Honey Krushed Wheat Bread. I found this bread not only delicious but a big aid to my health. It was not unusual for me to take several physics a week. I felt groggy and sleepy on the job, had headaches often and my complexion was pale. I have eaten Honey Krushed Wheat Bread for ten days and recommend it. It has kept me regular as clock work."

You practice real economy when you buy Orr's Honey Krushed Wheat Bread. It's bread of known quality, preferred by thousands of discriminating, thrift-minded families for its purity, fine flavor, and high food value. But more than

Mellon Probe Is Continued

Attacks On Mellon's Qualifications For Secretary Of Treasury Renewed

MELLON'S SECRETARY IS AGAIN QUIZZED

By WILLIAM J. KELLY
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 27.—Renewed attacks on Andrew W. Mellon's qualifications for the secretary of treasury office during three Republican administrations were made today by counsel for the government which seeks more than $3,000,000 from the multi-millionaire.

By dealing in stocks and bank holdings, Chief Government Counsel Robert H. Jackson contends the white-haired financier held his cabinet post illegally. Jackson also charges Mellon, while treasury secretary, devised a scheme of involved stock transfers and deals to evade payment of income tax.

On this contention, the government bases its suit for $3,089,261 in additional taxes and penalties on the financier's 1931 income while Mellon claims he is entitled to a refund of $139,045.

Secretary Again Quizzed
Still anxious to learn more about the intricate setup of the "house of Mellon," Jackson cross-examined the banker's confidential secretary,

Howard M. Johnson, for the sixth day. He pressed for detailed information concerning business activities of Mellon while the latter was in Washington.

Evidence shows Andrew and his brother, the late Richard B., organized a firm to insure public deposits in Mellon banks in 1931. This was contrary to the law which forbids a cabinet officer from engaging in business.

Furthermore, Johnson admitted four bond lots sold by Andrew in 1933 at a loss of $63,000 were promptly bought up by the Mellon-owned Coalesced company into which the financier's children poured huge gifts from their father. Jackson regarded this as additional proof of his contention that Mellon "evaded income taxes" by using Coalesced and other family firms as a "dumping ground" for valuable securities.

Johnson also revealed that personal securities valued at $165,000 went from A. W.'s account, while Mellon was treasury secretary, into the organization of the Mellbank Surety corporation. The balance of capital, estimated at $7,000,000, came from the brother's joint account, Jackson alleges.

Forty Below Zero At Hospital Home Of Dionne Quintuplets

Water Line To Home Freezes; Emergency Squad Tries Thawing Process

(International News Service)
CALLENDER, Ont., Feb. 27.—Temperatures of 40 below zero today froze water supply of the heating system at the DaFoe hospital home of the Dionne quintuplets.

In response to an urgent call from Dr. A. R. DaFoe, the North Bay Hydro Company rushed a thawing machine to the hospital. If the machine fails to thaw the hospital heating system, buckets of water will have to be carried from the Dionne home to the hospital water boiler.

The freeze-up was discovered shortly after Mr. and Mrs. Olivia Dionne, parents of the babies, returned home from their American theatrical tour.

The hospital heating system is a steam arrangement, with a 100-foot pipe line running from a well to the building. The only other heating equipment is a stove in the basement.

Johnson Bronze Company Winner

National Labor Relations Board Reverses Decision By The Pittsburgh Board

In a decision handed down by Francis Biddle, chairman of the national labor relations board, the previous decision of the Pittsburgh district labor board in the case of the Johnson Bronze Company is reversed. The latest decision by the national board holds that the Johnson Bronze Company was not in violation of the NRA in the laying off of a number of men some months ago.

At the time of the decision of the Pittsburgh labor board it was held that discrimination had been shown in the laying off of the men in question and that collective bargaining had been violated. The national board holds that this decision was in error and that there was no violation of collective bargaining rights, and that the men had been laid off because of slack business.

The seniority rights of the men in question was an issue. The decision of Mr. Biddle is that seniority had not been violated, but suggested that in the future such difficulties might be avoided by giving adequate publicity to the seniority ratings of its employees and to the manner in which ratings are determined.

P. J. Flaherty, president of the Johnson Bronze Company, had nothing to say concerning the latest ruling except to comment that he felt the ruling was fair and that it vindicated the company's actions in the past few months.

AROUND CITY HALL

Although it is not generally known Frank Nugent keeps a flock of half-and-half dogs at the disposal plant to kill rats, which in high water come through the sewers. The dogs are of Chihuahua-Black and Tan breeds. They are good 'ratters'.

City policemen have come accustomed to watching for bad places in sidewalks and streets judging from the reports submitted following each discovery. The reports concerning hazards are relayed to the director of streets.

Several mornings have passed since Mayor Mayne gave castor oil doses to prisoners who frequent the police station too often on charges of drunkenness. Some of them make worse grimaces than the late Lon Chaney when he was in the bobbin films.

When Mayor Mayne took office he instituted midnight police court. Whenever any prisoners are incarcerated and they are in condition to be tried he holds court at midnight. This is for the purpose of letting the men go to work the next day.

Cleveland police radio calls were received over WPGT (New Castle) yesterday. Judging from the number of calls sent out by the Youngstown police department the police in cruiser cars were kept quite busy.

Street Director B. F. Butler stated late yesterday that the streets employees had caught a good hold on street conditions here and if no more snow arrives the department will soon be able to operate at normal.

Police chronology for 24 hours ending at 3:30 p. m. February 26, six arrests on charges as follows: Drunkenness 5 and violation of parking law 1.

Several RWD employees are employed in the office of the city clerk municipal building, indexing and codifying the city ordinances. This is a white collar project. The work has been in progress for about two weeks.

Very few reports of storm water entering sanitary sewers have been received at the office of the city engineer. However, a report of sanitary sewage entering a storm sewer in Croton Avenue is to be investigated.

Neil Williams, employee of the engineer's department, has commenced a check of persons who drove trucks for RWD projects in which the city is interested.

The amounts they are entitled to will be applied against their back taxes.

The new truck bought for the city streets department will arrive here in about 10 days or two weeks. In the meanwhile the city council is getting ready to open bids for a new grader. They will be read in council March 11.

Carl Lockhard, patrolman, holds the title champion stew manufacturer. He prepared a beef stew at the city police station that satisfied seven policemen. Every day the day turn office employees prepare their own dinner.

Approximately 20 messages arrive over state police teletype during the 8 a. m.—4 p. m. turn. The messages describe holdups, auto thefts, requests to search for rubber check passers, runaway boys and girls and slayers.

Although March 1 is nearing there is no excitement among attaches of city hall as a year ago an ordinance was passed stating that persons whose term of office was not fixed by state law could continue on during good behavior.

Approximately $168.00 is tied up in the city treasury because no dance permit refund has been made to proprietors. It is reported that they have quit paying since Controller Wimer refused to approve of a 90 percent refund.

It is probable that the city will be forced to purchase an auto for the health department if a rush of contagion should arrive. Last year there were hundreds of cases of mumps in addition to other ills.

When April arrives the city treasurer will probably receive several hundred thousand dollars in taxation, according to attaches. All the industries pay their taxes during April, they declare.

Under an existing ordinance property owners are required to remove ice and snow from sidewalks within 24 hours after it falls. There is considerable ice in front of many properties here. Ice covered sidewalks invite lawsuits.

Y. M. C. A. DORMITORY BUSINESS IMPROVES

While business has not yet spurted to the level of olden times, General Secretary R. L. Meermans reported the Y. M. C. A.'s dormitory occupancy today as 25 percent better than a year ago.

"We have a good many more rooms filled up now," he said.

The balance wheel of your watch revolves 18,000 times every hour, 157,680,000 times a year. If this wheel were rolling in one direction, it would travel about 4,000 miles in one year.

A BUILDER and TONIC

There's no better builder and tonic than Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, for it tones up the stomach and makes the blood redder. Mrs. F. I gave me a fine appetite and relieved me that tired, run-down condition. I took New size, tablets or liquid, $1.35. All druggists. Write Dr. Pierce's Clinic, Buffalo, N. ### Borrow Fewer Books Of Fiction

Report Of Librarian At Grove
City Reveals Conditions
During Past Year

(Special To The News)
GROVE CITY, Feb. 27.—Townpeople borrowed fewer books of fiction from Carnegie Library during 1934, according to a report of the librarian, Miss Isabelle Forbes. However, 22,744 volumes were taken out, despite the popularity of light fiction available in numerous circulating libraries in town. Miss Forbes' report reveals that 7,022 volumes were lent by the children's library. Students of the college borrowed 7,717 volumes; townspeople 6,890, and the college faculty 1,205. In the children's department, girls led the boys in reading, taking out 4,342 to the boys 2,680.

Books added during the year totaled 1,151, making a total of 33,553 catalogued volumes. Subtracting those discarded and the losses, a total of 32,728 books in good condition remain on the shelves.

An interesting tabulation of the borrowings for the year show that fiction led the list with 6,123 books; literature was next with 2,882; general work, 1,493; history, 965; sociology, 850; biography, 703; science, 681; religion, 535; travel, 471; useful arts, 460; fine arts, 289; philosophy, 251, and language, 19.

Titans In Final Home Contest

Will Meet Edinboro's Test Team At New Wilmington Tonight

SEVERAL OF STARS OUT OF LINEUP

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Feb. 27.—Westminster college's Titan basketball team closes the home season tonight, meeting the strong Edinboro State Teachers college team at 8:15. The contest will be the final home game for Ray Sweeney, Youngstown, and John Wilhelm, Kittanning.

The Titans defeated Edinboro at Erie on February 13 by the surprising score of 54-23 and the Teachers are coming to the Titan court tonight determined to get revenge. With the possibility that Wes Bennett and Ray Sweeney will not be available, due to illness and injury, the Titans will have their hands full trying to stop Socks Harrison's crew.

In the event that Bennett and Sweeney are unable to play, Coach John Lawther will probably start Leyshock and Wilhelm at the forward, Backus at center and Hunneke and Krivosh at the guards. Johnnie Krivosh played outstanding ball on the West Virginia trip, especially on the defense.

Edinboro will present two of the outstanding court stars of the district in Holland at center and Leson at guard. Both men are tall as any of the Titans, and both are high scorers. Holland tallied nine points against Westminster at Erie, and Leson had but two. In other games this year, however, these men have scored 15 to 18 points.

Following tonight's game the Titans must journey to Bethany tomorrow night to meet John Knight's Bison quint, and then must go to Slippery Rock Saturday night to play the aroused Teacher College five. On top of all this, Ken Loeffler's high-scoring Geneva team must be met at Beaver Falls on Monday night. The game with the Covenanters will be a fitting climax to the season.

Fans in the district believe that if the Covenanters play the ball of which they are capable, the Titans will not be able to stop them on their own floor. A large delegation of fans from this section will see the game Monday night.

Talk of post-season games for the Titans has reached Westminster officials who claim that no overtures have been considered, although three have been made. The contest Monday night will end the season.

Boston Braves Get Babe Ruth For 1935 Season

Ruth Becomes Vice-President And Assistant Manager Of National League Team

By PAT ROBINSON
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—Like an old fire horse which has outlived its usefulness between the shafts, Babe Ruth today had been turned loose by the New York Yankees to pass by his declining days in the pasture of the Boston Braves.

Babe gets a 3-year contract from the Braves at a straight salary, probably not exceeding $15,000, and, as stated repeatedly in these columns, a share in the profits, if any. He also becomes vice president and assistant manager—whatever that may mean—and gets an option to purchase stock in a club already sunk in the mire.

Part-Time Player
Thus he goes back as a National leaguer to the town he started his career as an American leaguer more than 20 years ago and he goes as embryonic club owner, quasi-manager and actual part-time player.

Back of his three-fold status lies a story of face-saving operation—equalled in the annals of baseball; a face-saving operation made possible by the beau geste of Col. Jake Ruppert in handing the Bambino his unconditional release.

Behind the fine coating of salve covering the deal, we find the following faces saved: Ruth's, Ruppert's, Joe McCarthy's, Bill McKee's and Judge Fuchs'.

The one disconsolate figure in this array is that of McKee, who won pennants for the Cardinals and Pirates and each time was booed out and who, although a successful manager of the Braves, now finds himself in an untenable spot. It would surprise no one if he should resign as manager in favor of Ruth before the year is out, if not much sooner, and find himself kicked upstairs into the business manager's seat.

Very Noble Gesture
On the surface, it appears the col- onel did a noble thing in handing the Bambino his release, but never again was a grand gesture made with more pleasure. The Babe had become an embarrassment to the col- onel as well as to Joe McCarthy and it is no secret that Jake would never let Babe manage his Yankees if he stayed here a hundred years.

It also is an open secret that there never was any love lost between Joe and the Babe, especially after Babe virtually demanded Joe's job last fall. Nor will the Yankee players mourn his passing for they openly blame his aged legs for the loss of last year's pennant.

Weights About 236
The Babe said yesterday he weighs 236 with all his clothes on, but this may be put down as poetic license and the Babe's no poet. He appeared much closer to the 260 mark. He said he'd patrol the Braves' outfield until his dogs begin to bark which, considering the vast extent of Braves field, will not be long.

No, it is more likely that the Babe will manage from the side lines, play Saturdays, Sundays and holidays, and pinch hit when occasion demands.

St. Michaels To Battle Warren, O.
The league-leading St. Michaels of the Penn-Ohio Church League will go to Youngstown, O., tonight for an engagement with the powerful St. Elizabeths of Warren, O. The game will be played at the Lincoln gym. Coach Michael "Jake Sent Me" Babovsky will start his strong lineup tonight in an effort to wrest a victory from the Warrenites.

The St. Mikes will have their strongest lineup intact, with the "Three Musketeers", Balla, Motoko and Chernyavsky, in the battle.

K. PULASKIS ARRANGE GAMES
The K. Pulaski basketball team will play the strong Slippery Rock Collegians at the Pulaski hall Thursday night. The Collegians will have Nickie Uram former New Castle luminary, in the lineup. Sunday the Pulaskis will go to Butler, Pa., for a battle with the Trinity team.

Franklin High Defeats P. G.'s.

Ben Franklin junior high handed the Post Graduate team of senior high a neat lacing 35 to 22 last night at the Franklin high court in a class league battle. Kozzola was the outstanding star of the engagement with 16 points. Strassbaugh and Nocera also played well for the Franklins.

Coach Bill Wallace announced today that the Franklin-Washington high school basketball championship series will be resumed at the Franklin high floor Friday afternoon. The Franklins won the game played at the Washington high floor earlier in the year.

The Center quintet dropped to the Calvary basketweavers 25 to 22 on Monday night with Kalaajainen, Marshall and F. Van Eman starring. The Harmony team was defeated by St. Marys the league leaders by a score of 25 to 17, with Laitinen and Frenzel the brilliant stars of the engagement.

In the third game the Savannah team upset the Castlewood team 19 to 16, with Klingensmith and Seeth doing the bulk of the scoring for the losers and Druschel, Body and Farrell the best for the winners.

Grovers Defeat W. & J.; Indiana Trims Rockets

Grove City Wins 42 To 25 Over Presidents; Slippery Rock Falls 30 To 26

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 27.—Pitt's hardwood artillery was being warmed-up today in preparation for the invasion of Temple's Owls tonight; in the latter's final effort of the season to wrest the lead in the eastern intercollegiate basketball conference race.

Temple, in second place, can go into the pace-making position by handing Pitt another defeat. In their earlier meeting at Philadelphia this season, the Owls won their first cage game in history from a blue and gold squad.

George Washington U plays Geneva tonight. Edinboro Teachers battle Westminster and Waynesburg goes into Ohio for a fracas with Youngstown "Y" college to complete this evening's floor bills.

Last night's games saw Washington and Jefferson smothered by a second half rally by Grove City's cagers who won, 42-25. Thiel put on the pressure in the final minute to beat Allegheny 30-28. Indiana Teachers asserted its superiority over Slippery Rock in the Teachers league by winning 30 to 26.

Union Takes 43 To 18 Victory In Closing Game Of Section 18 Here

OSTROSKY-RELIC HIGH SCORERS

Union High School basketball team closed the Section 18 W. P. I. A. L. season last night at the Union High floor by taking a 43 to 18 victory over the Karns City High quintet. The Unionites held the lead throughout the entire game. Coach Davy Boyd instilled the fine spirit into the Blue and White artists and they played one of the best games of the year.

At the first period the Unionites led 11 to 3, and at the half held the commanding lead of 20 to 5. The Karns City High boys could not locate the hoops any too effectively. The end of the third period it was 31 to 12, and Union doubled the count in the final period 12 to 6, to make it 43 to 18. The scoring stars of the game for the Boydenmen were Ostrosky, Schaas, Annerella and Todd. Relic and Stevens were the best performers in the lineup of the visitors.

Union High will go to Ellwood City tonight for a battle with Section Three Ellwood City High quintet.

INFIELD PROSPECTS

"It All Depends On You" will be ringing in the ears of a number of youthful infielders this spring when they begin battling to make the grade in the majors. The Red Sox, Cleveland, and Cincinnati are depending a great deal on some minor league infielders to become regulars in 1935.

The Indians have a keystone combination that clicked perfectly down at New Orleans last year. Shortstop Ray Hughes and Second Baseman Lou Berger have the recommendation of the entire Southern Association to spur them on.

Berger was considered by many as the best prospect in the minor leagues last season. If he has learned to hit a curve ball, and they claim he has, he will make the grade and may even become a regular. Hughes may land a utility berth although another year in the minors would probably do him more good.

The Athletics are taking four infielders to camp but two and maybe three will be turned back. Alex Hooks is being groomed for the first base job but whether he will ever be of major league calibre is still a question. Lamar Newsome is a flashy little shortstop but not a robust hitter. He will probably need another season in the minors.

Buck Fausett, a third baseman up from Galveston for his first major league trial, is a heavy hitter but his fielding needs polishing a bit. He hasn't a chance so long as Pinky Higgins is on the job so will probably be sent to a fast minor league team, perhaps Portland. Charley English, a second baseman, is up for his second trial and may land a utility job.

Ellsworth Dahlgren and Al Niemiec have an excellent opportunity with the Red Sox; especially if Yawkey is unable to lure Burns and Melillo from St. Louis. Dahlgren is a satisfactory fielder but may find difficulty hitting major league pitching. Niemiec, up from Holy Cross and Kansas City, lacks polish but is developing rapidly. He hit 301 last year at Kansas City and most of his hits were garnered during the latter portion of the race.

Pittsburgh will try First Baseman Earl Browne, Third Baseman Elmer Trapp. None of the trio batted .300 in the minors last season but Brubaker came pretty close. He will probably remain as Manager Traynor's understudy at third but the other two will find themselves back in the minors before the season starts.

Phil Cavaretta and Eddie Cihocki

are the Cub hopefuls. Phil, just past 17, needs more experience but will some day be a very valuable player. Cihocki was with the Athletics in 1933 but spent the past season in the International League where he hit a mere .266. His destination is Los Angeles or back to Syracuse.

The Reds expect to start the season with a freshman infield composed of Mize, Kampouris, Myers, and Riggs. They all have fine minor league records and should make good as a unit, the batting of Riggs probably being the most doubtful part of the quartet. Mize and Myers look like sure-fire major leaguers.

The Braves will give Third Baseman Cochrane an opportunity to oust Pinky Whitney but he probably won't. He is a fine prospect, however, and boasts a fine Seattle record, whence he came to Boston. First Baseman Fletcher is another infield candidate of the Braves. He is quite young and needs more experience but had no difficulty hitting N. Y.-Pa. League pitching last year so may stick around in case anything should happen to Baxter Jordan.

Don Guttridge and Charles Wilson will try to hang on with the World's Champions but have only a slim chance. Guttridge will probably be sent to Rochester or Columbus to improve his fielding, while Wilson may become the utility infielder, especially if Charley Gelbert is not in shape.

There is quite a bit of valuable baseball timber in this season's list of recruit infielders although many are in need of further seasoning. Berger, Niemiec, Mize, and Myers look like the class of the lot as far as 1935 is concerned.

STOCKS

Stock Market
Is Dull TodayTrading Turns Dull After Active Opening, Steadier Tone For Rails

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—A steadier tone in the rails, the unsettling spot in the last few days, helped stiffen the stock market today. Little rallying power was displayed, however, and trading turned dull after an active opening.

Steel shares were under pressure. U. S. Steel and Bethlehem hit new 1935 lows before steadying. The government defeat in the Weirton Steel case was without immediate effect. The mid-week trade reports told of further declines in steel and power production, while railroad traffic was down considerably last week.

Chrysler's earnings for 1934 were in line with expectations and the stock did little. There was some pressure on General Motors. Accessory and rubber shares were sluggish.

Consolidated Gas was up at times in the utilities but was held back by the revival of the battle over cuts in New York City electric rates. Power shares generally were quiet.
